EXPERIENCE THE ZERO CLIENT REVOLUTION

ZERO CLIENT INFRASTRUCTURE BUNDLES

Companies looking to revolutionize their IT with the Fujitsu Zero Client may not always have the appropriate network infrastructure to allow immediate integration of new Zero Clients. However, with Fujitsu Zero Client Infrastructure Bundles it is easy for any company to make the switch to a virtual desktop environment.

The bundles contain PRIMERGY servers optimized to four different Zero Client packages. This gives you the choice of how many Zero Clients you need, while also leaving you with the possibility for expansion in future. And for customers looking to reinvigorate their IT resources without the worry of expensive setup costs, these bundles also contain your key components to administer the server with mouse, keyboard, and a monitor. If required, an optional network switch and other maintenance services are available. These bundles can be adapted to contain anything from five to fifty workplaces, leaving you with the freedom and flexibility your business requires.

Best suited to small offices using a standard application environment, the Zero Client Infrastructure bundle can be readily installed without needing lengthy technical consults. As the server, software and Zero Clients can be pre-configured by us before delivery, small offices which may not have the time or resources to manage a complicated overhaul can easily experience the Zero Client revolution.
